The past is something important to keep in our minds. It keeps alive a life once lived by others, and adds meaning to our own. The Trading Post, which was the only building existing here in 1776, represents the first signs of progress made here by the first citizens of our town. In keeping this part of our past alive, we may somehow recognize the beginnings of our town and from this appreciate what we've become. That theme is the yearbook staff's intention in presenting a historical glimpse at Three Rivers High School.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

As Mr. Blank ends a great career in education, we observe that he has devoted forty-three years to this profession. He has served as Principal of Three Rivers High School for the past twenty-four years, serving on the teaching staff here for eighteen years prior to that time.

When Mr. Blank was asked how he felt the school system had changed since he had started, he felt that there is ". . . more freedom than I could have imagined forty years ago." He stated that many adults haven't set a good example for the students, so students can't really be expected to be respectful. "As a teacher and as high school principal, I had to set a reasonably good example for the student whom I thought should respect me." He said that there have been times when he has erred in judgment and during these times he has had to admit his mistakes and call back a student to apologize.

Musing on how things have changed academically through the years, he felt that a great change had taken place. He said that there are many more outside activities now than before. He commented that students are distracted by all the extra-curricular activities and cannot concentrate as well on their studies. He feels that his time is more useful to students who will accept his advice and use it to better themselves. Although Mr. Blank often has to discipline students, "I always enjoyed working with young people."

In the closing year of Mr. Blank's career he does not seem anxious to leave his profession. Remarking upon his leaving he said: "It's a good school system and I have been proud to be a part of it. My only hope and prayer would be that under my leadership here the job at hand was well done even though I know at times I have made some mistakes."

Sports play a big role; it is the thing in high school that stays the same. The uniforms change, and the people who participate change, but the spirit of pride and competition is still carried on from year to year. Each player that was involved gained something from winning and losing.

Led by Jerry Moore and Frank Oswald, a young and inexperienced track team put in many fine performances which should set the tone for a strong future.

This season will be remembered best for the outstanding performances from the young members of the squad. They constantly improved during the season and will form the nucleus for Coach Burnett's squad in the years to come.

Jerry Moore, a junior, was voted Most Valuable Runner. He led the team in the shot put, 440, high hurdles, and 220. He was also a member of the squad's best mile relay team. Jerry was also decathlon champion while setting a new record of 5,575 points. He also had an amazing total of 135 points for the season.

Frank Oswald was honored in a dual role as being selected Most Improved and Most Dedicated. Frank took fourth place in the Conference in the mile with a time of 4:41.8.

Jim Willma and "Easy" Ed Williams shared the honor of Outstanding Sophomore. Bart Haines, who had an impressive total of 60¼ points, was voted Outstanding Freshman.

The reserve baseball team improved itself greatly and had a fine winning season. The team posted a 9 and 7 record. All the games were played in the conference.

Leading the team in hitting were Daryl Boughton, Mark Zanter, and Bill Zerfas. Bob Bales led the squad in runs batted in. Also turning in fine performances were Ken McEnroe and Kirk Mason. Ace pitcher on the staff was Tom Gildea. Tom collected seven victories.

Many of the reserves will be stepping up to Varsity next year. With their help, the Wildcats are looking forward to a fine future.

Last year's Wolverine Conference Championship was a tough act to follow. The squad, weakened by losses from graduation, carried a 4 win and 12 loss conference record. They won 5 and lost 15 for the season and also had one game ending in a 4-4 tie.

Bob Staffen hit .319 and Fred Krull logged a .317 average to lead the Wildcats offensively. Krull and Tim Freese were the top pitchers for the team. Fred had a fine 1.14 earn run average.

Krull, in ending his fourth varsity season, was selected Most Valuable Player for the squad. Staffen was selected Most Improved Player and Jim Gildea was elected Captain.

In earning additional honors, Krull was named to the Wolverine All-Conference squad. Staffen, a sophomore, earned Honorable Mention.

Only five lettermen will be returning next season. The addition of many fine Reserves should strengthen the team for next season.

Since admittance to the Wolverine, their conference record now stands at a fantastic 56-2. Further honors were earned by the team when Dan Findlay and Brian Lusson qualified for the state match as a doubles team.

Brian Lusson was selected as Most Valuable Player while Bob Dobrowolski was Most Improved. Senior Jim Newby and Dan Findlay were chosen as captains. The future looks bright as the Cats should remain a power with 12 of 14 lettermen returning.

The Reserve Tennis team posted a winning season once again. The only loss came in the first match of the year to Plainwell when many top Reserves were playing Varsity. They found the winning formula in capturing the final three matches of the year to post a 3 and 1 record. The season was hindered by bad weather which forced cancellation of several matches.

The victories included two strong triumphs over Vicksburg and an impressive 6-1 decision over Battle Creek Pennfield. In addition, many of the Reserves gained valuable experience by playing Varsity.

First singles man Ralph Johnson was undefeated in three matches. Dave Wing and Coach Hal Stofer shared the coaching duties.

Although losing much of their scoring punch through last year's graduation, the Girls Varsity Basketball team managed a respectable 7 and 11 overall record.

Four players who played key roles on the team will be graduating. They are Carmella Jones, Harriet Brown, Linda Hicks, and Judy McMasters. Next year's squad will have to make up for its lack of experience with a lot of dedication and hard work.

Despite getting off to a slow start the Reserve team battled hard throughout the campaign. The team posted a 3 and 12 record including several close losses.

Danette Martin led the team most of the season and was later moved up to varsity.

Harriet Brown and Linda Hicks were selected Co-Most Valuable Players. Danette Martin was given the Most Improved Player award.

BOTTOM RIGHT: #86 Dallas Hetmansperger makes 3 more opponents wish they weren't in football.

The football program at Three Rivers paid big dividends as the varsity enjoyed its finest season since 1968. The squad carried a 4 and 4 league record and tied for third in the Wolverine Conference. The 'Cats carried a season record of 5 and 4. The key to success for the gridders was their defense which allowed only 54 points and earned three shutouts.

The success the team enjoyed was exemplified by the individual honors many members earned. Gaining first team All-Conference honors were Dan Findlay, Jerry Moore, Dave Sparks, and Brian Alfing. This marks the third year Findlay has been honored and the second year for Moore. Also earning league honors were Dallas Hetmansperger, Charlie Ratering, Lewis Warr, and Rich Bogema.

At the end of the season Jerry Moore was voted Most Valuable Player. Jerry ran for 745 yards and seven touchdowns while making 53 tackles on defense. Bill Zerfas was selected Most Improved Player. Honored as Co-captains were seniors Bob Dobrowolski, Findlay, and Ratering.

This year's varsity club began with the election of officers who are: Ralph Johnson, President; Tim Freese, Vice-President; Dan Findlay, Secretary.

Although the 'Cats had an overall 10-11 record, they earned a second place in the Wolverine Conference with a great 10-6 conference record this season.

Scoring the most points in a season was Tim Freese with 309 total; he also had a game high of 25 points against Plainwell which was the most scored by an individual in a game. Backing him up in the scoring department was Brian Lusson with 261 total points who was co-captain along with Lewis Warr. Mark Yoder filled the "playmaker" role midway in the season when he was promoted from the reserve to the varsity squad.

Highlights of the season were two overtime games, both against Comstock. The 'Cats defeated the Colts in an exciting game at Comstock but were unable to overcome them on our home court although 80 points, the highest amount made by the team, were scored in that game.

In the late summer both the Junior Varsity and Varsity squads attended camps, the Junior Varsity bringing back a first place ribbon for outstanding skit at Camp Wakeshma.

The squads, again this year, went to the University of Michigan to enjoy a clinic. Afterwards they went to the football game, U of M vs Stanford.

Two new trophies have been added to the cheerleaders' collection. Both squads won a first place at Otsego competition and entered the Battle Creek competition.

Also, among things happening for sophomores was the picking out of their class rings. The class officers chose two styles; the student body then having the choice from either traditional square or custom round.

The class of 1978 is looking forward to the fun times to come as being juniors.

The class of 1977 established a magazine sales record by earning $6,686.22 in the first ten days of the sales. Other money making projects included a water carnival booth, a concession stand, bake sales and the homecoming dance.

The juniors broke tradition by planning the bi-centennial junior-senior prom at Sauganash Country Club. The prom supper represented American eating tradition at its finest.

The class won a first place for its float depicting Betsy Ross "needling" a Redskin, while a giant purple wildcat waved the coveted football.

The class of 1977 chose blue and gold as its colors and the yellow rose as its flower. The motto is "Today well lived will make yesterday a dream of happiness—and tomorrow a vision of hope."

We know this will be our happiest year but we are still looking forward to the future.

Some of the Yearbook Staff posed in their personal "historic" days serve as an introduction to a much more sophisticated 1976 bicentennial graduating class. It is the hope of this staff that this group of graduates will face their futures with as much confidence as they had when they were young.

Activities Fill Last High School Year

As the year draws to a close, the class of '76 reflects back on its past years in T.R.H.S.

During the sophomore year dark blue and light blue were chosen as class colors; the white rose was selected as class flower.

As Juniors, they won the traditional high school bowl and yell contest.

When homecoming came around the Seniors took second place with their float, "Fly To Victory," depicting a giant eagle and the American flag. That week Seniors also won a trophy for an "Almost Anything Goes" assembly where some fine talent was displayed.

Money-making activities included bake sales and a dance. Senior pictures arrived and caps and gowns were ordered.

Seniors will always treasure the many memories of their high school days as they now move out on their own!

We need some imaginative stimulus, some not impossible ideal such as may shape vague hope, and transform it into effective desire, to carry us year after year, without disgust, through the routine-work which is so large a part of life.

The excitement of gambling pervaded the atmosphere as the annual Junior-Senior Prom recreated the grand Casino of Monte Carlo. General Chairman for the event was Robbyn Reber, though it never would have taken place without the guidance of Mrs. Tubergen.

The Prom Supper was held Friday, May sixteenth, at the Junior High Cafeteria. The French buffet dinner included a main dish of either Boeuf a la Bourguignonne or Coq au vin blanc. Side dishes of Gratin dauphinois, Carrots Vichy, and a gelatin mold in the shape of a roulette wheel were all fantastique! Cakes presented to the seniors by the juniors were in the shape of 2 dice. Entertainment followed, with different skits; including our own Miss Three Rivers Pageant. Pat Fanny (Jeff Springer), took top honors.

On Saturday, the dice were rolling as the T.R. H.S. gym resembled a luxurious casino. Sophomore girls and boys worked as card dealers and served refreshments. Simon Genesis, a band from Fort Wayne, played a great selection of music.

The week began with Pioneer Dress Day followed with Red, White, and Blue Day on Tuesday with the sack and 3-legged race assembly, Wednesday was Purple and White Day, and the Talent Show assembly. Thursday, War Worn Day, was highlighted with the "Almost Anything Goes" assembly.

A special assembly, in the gym, was held Friday to announce the court and the Grand Marshall Mr. Edmund Blank and Grand Marshallette Mrs. Phyllis Agosti. The assembly was presented by Master of ceremonies, Don Morrison and Mistress of ceremonies, Harriett Brown.

The T.R. Wildcat Band of 75-76 had a very successful season. The band started out by participating in the 1975 State Fair. This band performed at all the home football games with one of these shows being a special bi-centennial program with the combined Three Rivers-Vicksburg bands. The band was awarded their 19th first division at the marching contest of which they hosted.

The season concluded with the concert band holding a formal concert in February, the "Band Follies" in May, and participating in contests.

Under the presidency of Barb Vogel, the Student Council started their activities early in the summer. Among these activities were the regular meetings, a car wash and bake sale, which got the treasury off to a good start. The meetings were centered around the 1975 Bicentennial Homecoming. Harriett Brown, the chairman, organized and put all of the ideas together to make it a homecoming to remember.

The Student Council will be participating in a student exchange program, being held at Plainwell and Comstock. On the upcoming agenda they also hope to have a student exchange. Other ideas being talked about are the 1976 Mock Elections, the Winter Semi-Formal Dance, and Sock Hop. In the spring they plan to continue with the Powder Puff football game and the Junior-Senior bowl.

This year, as in previous years, Students Action for Education (SAE) is continuing to be of assistance to area teachers.

SAE is under the direction of William Rosenbaum and is involved in different aspects of education. Students who are interested in a teaching career spend one hour a day in a classroom (either elementary or junior high) and are given the opportunity to work with children. SAE students are also involved with grading procedures, filing papers, and running errands for the teachers.

Under the supervision of William Jacobs, the school service program has a total of 154 students per day involved. This gives the students an opportunity to experience a totally different and unique aspect of high school education, to gain the awareness of responsibility and the value in working, not only with adults, but also with younger people.

The School Service Program provides one credit per year and it is open to all students regardless of background, grade, or ability.

At the National Honor Society banquet, before last year's graduation, the officers for the 1975-1976 year were announced: President, Andy Yokom; Vice-President, Jeanie Jeffers; Secretary, Beth Boeschenstein; and Treasurer, Harriet Brown. Then the year began with the selection of the executive board: Sharon Cox, Matt Roberts, Rita Adamson, and Lore Crose. Money making projects began with a concession stand at the homecoming game, post game dance, paper drive, and a bake sale. The N.H.S. also sponsored the annual "Food Thing" collecting cans from Elementary Schools and from the Junior and Senior High. The cans were given to area needy families.

This year's induction was held on December 12. The following week, the N.H.S. members traveled to the St. Joseph County Trainable Center and gave the annual Day Care Christmas Party. Gifts were taken to each of the Day Care Students.

The spring brought the annual trip and the National Honor Society Banquet held in the Cafetorium.

The Swing choir has been very active this year performing at various functions both in school and community related.

They entertained the public with their annual variety show called "Showtime." During Christmas they sang carols at all the Three Rivere elementary schools and at the National Honor Society Induction. The Swing Choir performs for different church groups and community organizations such as the Lion's Club and Farm Bureau.

As usual each spring, both choirs are involved in the Southwestern Vocal Music Festival at Western Michigan University along with various other high school choirs from this area.

Both choirs again presented a spring concert for the benefit of the entire community. A Commencement performance was given for the 1976 graduates at the year's end.

At the end of last year a new Club called "Youth Companion" was started in the high school. This club was conceived at the request of elementary counselors to fill in a need for children in Kindergarten to third grade who needed companionship. The students are given a grade-school child, and through cooperation with grade school counselors from Huss, Andrews, and Barrows schools each student spends a minimum of one hour a week with the child.

This year membership in the club has grown from 22 members to 55 members. The club's President is Jeanie Jeffers, Secretary, Barb Vogel; and Treasurer is Bob McLellan. Many activities are planned on a group basis, as well as on individual basis, with the kids. Some of the group activities planned are a trip to Channel 3 Club House, trick or treating, a Christmas party, picnics and other festivities.

Students may join Youth Companion on a voluntary basis. The club is proving to be beneficial, not only to the grade school student, but the high school student as well.

"El Circulo Espanol," "Cercle Francais" and "Deutsch Klub" are three organizations composed of members derived from a particular language common interest. Each club plans various enjoyable and educational activities around the holidays with a language theme in order to broaden the interest and knowledge of a student in either French, Spanish, or German culture.

The clubs have sponsored many major trips to foreign countries in the past. This year only the Spanish Club, guided by Mr. Honeywell, ventured outside the United States, to Mexico City.

The German Club was newly organized this year under the direction of Mrs. Simon and was quite active. Mrs. Jan Stuckey led the French Club; one of the cultural events of the Christmas season was a "French" dinner at the Boechensteins'.

Varsity Debaters Have Unblemished

Lisa Tironi, Tony Lewis, Andy Yokom, and Paula Tironi were highly successful Forenicians last year.

Dedication and hard work are the two predominant characteristics of the 1975-76 T.R.H.S. debate team. Three Rivers excelled in all three divisions: Novice, Junior Varsity, and Varsity.

The main strength of the '75-76 squad was in league action. The "Kalamazoo Area League," strictly top varsity competition saw Three Rivers capture the 2nd place trophy, while the "Novice-Yearling League," for "Yearlings" awarded Three Rivers a 5th and 4th, while in the "Wolverine Debate League," Three Rivers Junior Varsity won a 2nd place Trophy, with the varsity entry capturing the first place trophy with an undefeated record.

At Class B Districts, Three Rivers High School's entry qualified for State Championships for the 6th consecutive year; the Championship tournament saw Three Rivers ranking 5th, as the top varsity unit was defeated in the quarter final round.

In addition to team trophies won in league and tournament action, the 1975-76 debaters also received a plaque for having qualified at districts, as well as a plaque fro the Detroit Free Press for overall excellence in league action.

Third, is the enrichment program for all aged persons who want to learn new skills, hobbies, recreational activities or to improve their physical fitness.

The faces and features may have been altered by time, but the hearts have remained constant to the well-being of those Three Rivers High School students that have come under their tutelage. These pages pay tribute to those who have given so much of themselves to the many students whose lives they have touched over the years. Appreciation for our teachers is often not realized until it is too late to express it. It is hoped that they do know that we have appreciated their caring, their knowledge, and their discipline.

Construction dominated the scene for the second year. The completion of the 1973 bonding made possible the use of all purpose rooms at Park and Lake Section. The high school began the first full year of total use of the cafetorium for band and vocal concerts, assemblies, as well as daily meals and class use.

On April, 1975, another capital improvement program was launched which should see completion by fall of 1976. This program includes complete renovation of the original portion of the high school structure, a library addition at Hoppin, a two-classroom addition at Lake Section, and an office, library and classroom addition to Barrows.

Voters approved, in March, the renewal of seven mills and the addition of one mill in November for operation of the schools. Sadly though, these funds have been almost entirely offset by reductions in state aid made by the Governor and Legislature. The decisions necessary to running our schools for the next couple of years are likely to be difficult unless new resources can be found to fund operation.

The Board and Administration hope to continue communication with the public, parents and non-parents.

Administrators Suffer Remodeling Woes

Mr. Blank, High School Principal, discovers that it's not hard to smile if you try.

Linda Blivin, yearbook staff member, assures Mr. Blank that his picture will appear in the annual!

Mr. Edmund W. Blank, Principal, and Mr. William J. Jacobs, Jr., Assistant Principal, have worked together for the past seven years as leaders of Three Rivers High School. Mr. Blank has been in charge of Teaching Personnel, Budgeting, and general high school operation, while Mr. Jacobs has been in charge of all Discipline, Attendance, Scheduling and Grading.

The principals have encountered extra problems this year because the school's interior is being remodeled. Some of the repairs included are the painting of some class rooms, rewiring the band room, and last but not least, putting in a new heating system. They have symphasized with the teachers' struggle to be heard while teaching class over the air hammer. The high school administrators have coped well with these chaotic conditions.

The Guidance Office not only serves in counseling needs to students, but Mrs. Johnson spends a lot of her time in finding jobs for students. This year alone 30 full-time and 50 part-time jobs were secured for students. Last year a total of 207 had found employment through this program.

This year as before each senior was called in the Guidance Office and was talked individually to about college plans or plans for a career after high school.

The library staff consists of the librarian, Mrs. Rasmussen, and the library assistant, Mrs. Wellington, along with students involved in the student services program.

The library is always open between 7:45 a.m. and 2:35 p.m. and at this time the staff will try to help the students gain the information they need by giving them the opportunity to use all of the library materials. Teachers and their respective classes make extensive use of the library facilities during the course of the school year.

Many of these people have IQs and aptitudes as high or higher than many regularly scheduled students, but for one reason or another they had to leave school. This program offers them an opportunity to return and complete their educations.

New this year is the Vocational Supplement class which is a three-hour block of credit which includes English, mathematics and shop; it is open to Junior High School students.

The Vocational Building Trades class is in the process of completing its fifth house. This year the construction is under Mr. Mark Bielang, who is new to the high school. This is the first of a planned six homes to be located on an oval drive in the Tamarac subdivision located north of the city. This year, with the addition of the Rock & Pop class, music students were given the opportunity to study more contemporary styles of music. Students learned to play musical instruments, which are commonly used in today's music, such as the guitar.

Both Mr. Smith and Mrs. DeJong, the music teachers, spend time at the Junior High School teaching classes that develop the talents of the younger musicians. They put on concerts for the school and community. This Junior High Program has greatly enhanced the Music in T.R.H.S. as the Band was first place in the State Competition and the choirs have been terrific assets to the entertainment of the community.

With the addition of a Drawing class students are urged to be creative in their drawings.

The beginning art students are given the opportunity to try their hand in many different media. Many of the advanced art students entered the Junior Scholastic Art competition in South Bend.

The construction and remodeling of the locker rooms, plus a shift in personnel accounted for a hectic Physical Education departmental schedule. Mr. VanderWiere, a full-time P.E. teacher, was moved to the Junior High School, and Mr. Dallariva assumed the duties of two boys' physical education classes.

A new grading policy was put into effect this year. All gym classes were graded the same, regardless of teacher.

Although being limited to the use of only one locker room for the boys this year, next year's students will enjoy a much more pleasant atmosphere and better facilities with the aid of the new locker room and an altogether not-so-congested Physical Education Department.

The Home Economics Curriculum at T.R.H.S. offers a diversified program of classes. Unlike the "olden days" when Home Economics was thought of as cookin' and sewin' for girls, classes are now geared to life roles and open to both males and females.

In addition to the more traditional foods and serving classes, Child Development and Marriage and Family Living classes are geared to prepare the student for a successful future in family life.

Custom Sewing is for those seeking advanced sewing classes, Child Development and Marriage Housing Class gives the student a chance to experience the actual planning and decorating of a home, namely the house that the Vocational Trades Class builds.

There have been no major changes this year in the History Department. The particular classes are doing some new and different things though.

This year the World Religions which is a study of the different world religions and their philosophies is being taught by Mrs. A. Jarrad. Some of this class' plans include asking area ministers to come in and speak; they also intend to visit the local priory, St. Gregory's.

The American Revolution classes taught by Mrs. Agosti, who still insists that she wasn't born then, is studying along the line of bicentennial happenings in history.

Mr. Burnett's interpretation of Newsweek for Current Issues classes is still fascinating. Mrs. Stuckey continues to have students mirror write and interpret their ink blots.

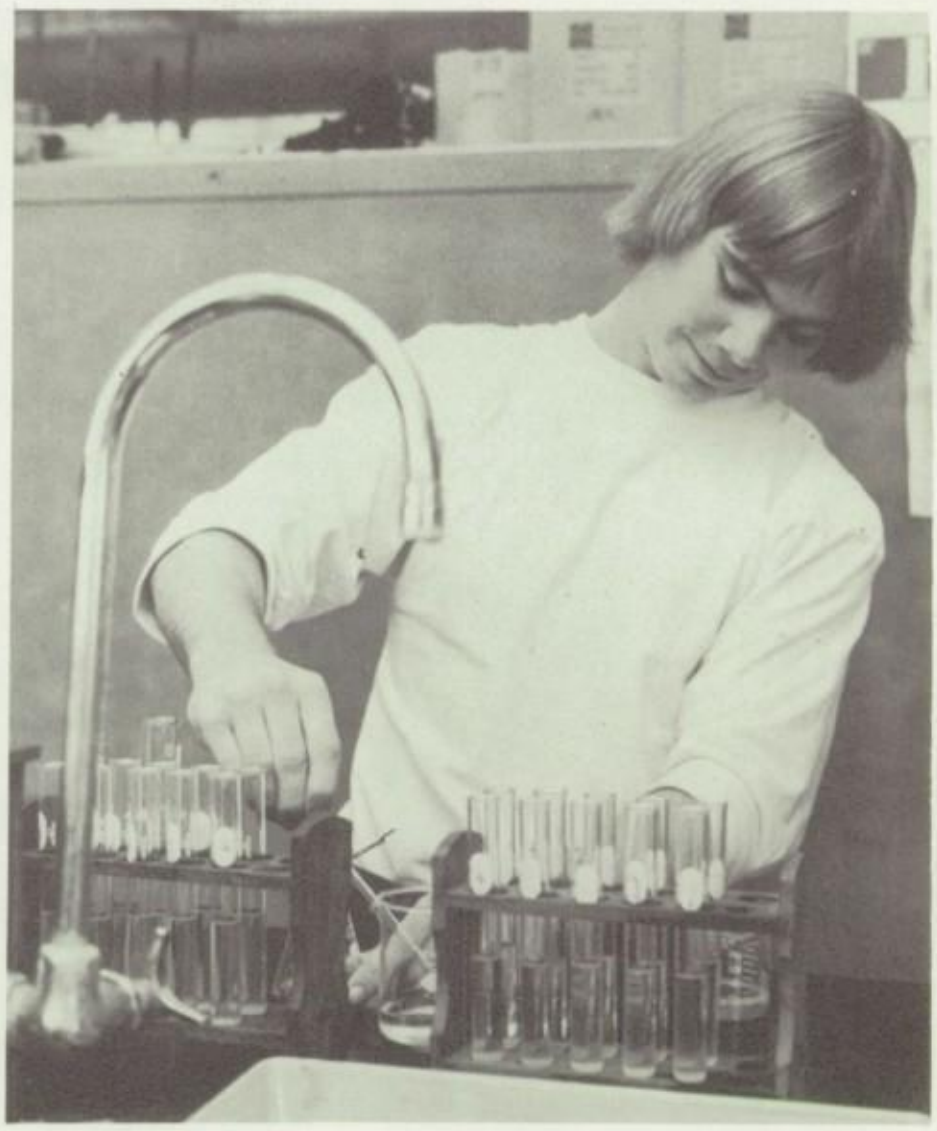
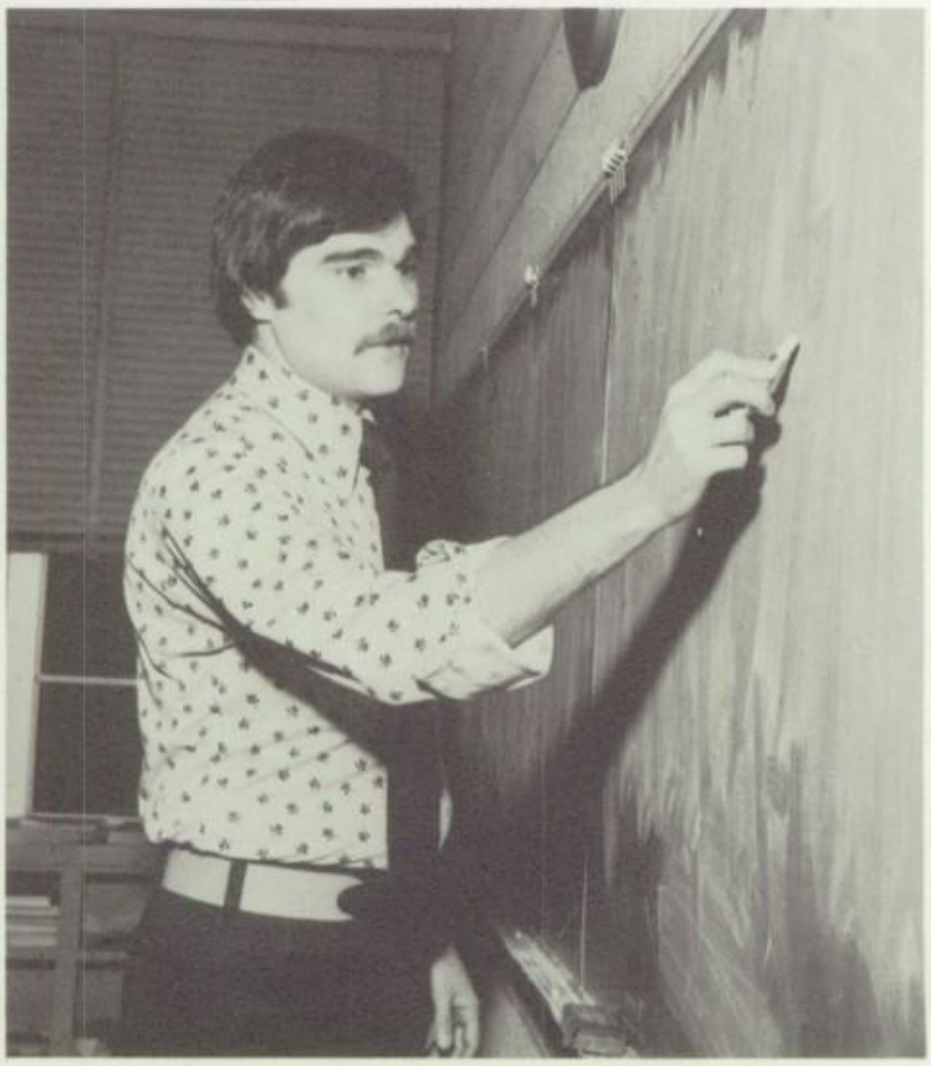
"Honestly, you kids; Vi does not stand for Very important," exclaims Mr. Riopel.



"Do you think I will disappear!" wonders Cy Stevenson.



Mr. Beals exclaims, "Of course, I can figure it out . . . I think."

The Mathematics Department holds an interest for almost everyone. This interest is made apparent by the many aspects of the course offerings. Honors and Special Math, grades 10-12, offer an accelerated challenge for students while the more business oriented may acquire training in business math or applied math. An interesting sidelight to the Math Department was the fact that Bob McLellan, a T.R.H.S. Junior, qualified for the finals in the Michigan Math Test which is taken by 20,000 students.

The Science oriented curricula of T.R.H.S. provides a wide variety of courses for the students' benefit, ranging from the profound science of physics and chemistry, to that of the more basic such as in Physical science.

Two Junior High School teachers, Miss Diane Korr and Mr. Nate Zimmerman, have a partial teaching load in the high school science department to relieve some of the rather large science classes.

Mrs. Longanecker displays pleasure at her student's work.

The English Department offered no new classes this year. There was, however, some shift in teaching personnel: Mrs. Boeschenstein was transferred to the Junior High School; Mrs. J. Stuckey is teaching three classes composed of the overflow of Comp I, Grammar I, and Short Story classes; also, Mr. Honeywell is handling two Grammar I classes this year.

Last year's newly-instituted Forensics class was highly successful in the Wolverine Conference. Twenty-five people participated individually in their events. Those who won awards in the Conference were Paula Tironi, a 1st, and Andy Yokom, a 2nd. Robbyn Reber earned a 1st in Extemporaneous Speech, while Lisa Tironi brought in a 2nd. Returnees are looking forward to returning to action.

Three Rivers High School's Foreign Language Department studies, not only the language, but attempts to acquaint students with customs of that particular group of people. Three major languages are offered.

German was added to the curriculum two years ago. Mrs. Sherrill Simon's classes have proven to be an extremely popular addition.

Mrs. J. Stuckey is still handling the French program which has a combined class of second-year students and advanced students working independently.

Spanish classes are being taught by Mr. Honeywell who also has a combination of advanced students.

The Junior High School students are being transported over to the high school for incorporation into the first-year language program.
